Badges and Reels

Badge reels are holders for badges or ID cards, offering a retractable function. Retractable badge holders or retractable badge reels can clip onto belts, pockets, pants, purses, handbags, suitcases, wallets, lanyards, key chains and more. A variety of badge reel styles are available in different colors, sizes, shapes, designs, attachments, and retractable cord materials.. Standard selections of retractable reels include plastic badge holder straps, badge clips (bull-dog or alligator clips), key chains (key rings or split-rings), swivel hooks or spring hooks. Retractable reel is a great way to display your security identification name badge or to swipe through ID card reader conveniently. All of our retractable ID holders or ID reels are available with personalized custom logo imprinted or with laser cut logos. The outstanding logo covered with clear domed cover will make your badge reels very impressive.

Badge Holders

Badge holders are products to wear and to display security ID card or name badge identification information. They also provide a great way to protect your badges or ID cards from damage or bending. We are supplier of ID badge holders and their hardware accessories for access control systems. We supply a variety of vinyl clear plastic badge holders with the most popular sizes, colors, designs, and styles for photo ID identification security systems for school, college or university students, conventions, trade show giveaways, exhibits, EXPO, corporations, state or federal government offices, military, events, meetings, sports, seminars, concerts, parties, hospitals, nursing home, churches, chain stores, membership, fund raising, businesses, and company badges etc.

Lanyards

lanyards made of braided fabric with a clip attached to the end are used frequently in retail and business situations for holding name badges; the typical arrangement is to attach a plastic pouch with at least one clear side to the lanyard, with the person's name badge facing the front, and occasionally small items such as business cards, pens, or tools stashed behind the badge for easy access.
